

20,000

demountable buildings
are currently in public schools
across Australia.

14,000

additional permanent classrooms are needed by 2030 to cater for rising student enrolments.

63%

of learning spaces
do not adequately meet the needs of students with disability.

How can you help?

Share your story by making a submission.

An important way to contribute to the Inquiry is for union members working at a school to come together and make a joint submission.

Tell us what's working and what needs to change when it comes to public school infrastructure.

The submission can be as short or as long as you like, and individuals will not be identified in the Inquiry's report.

Scan here to make your submission before June 30th.